Detailed Action

112 2nd Para. Rejection

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claims 1-3, reference is made to "data" in claim 1, line 7, however, it is not clear if reference is being made to the data stored on a computer readable medium or if the data is referred to image data. Correction is required.

112 1st Para. Rejection

Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Corrections are required.

Claims 1-11 and 20 refer to macroblocks for a plurality of lines followed by padding.

The specification does not provide an enabling disclosure for this teaching. In the specification at page 5, second paragraph, it states that multiple lines are divided into a macroblock. However, it is not clearly taught specifically how the division is to take place,. Is the division by an integer or a fraction ? It is not clear if the band is divided into a number of macroblocks or are all of the bands of a single image stored in a macroblock ?

The specification refers to "padding" as a process for terminating data on a boundary. But what is the boundary ? Is it a boundary of the band, of a specific line in the band, or is it in the macroblock ? It is not clear what is meant by boundary since it could have several interpretations.

Claims 12-19 and 22 refer to "macroblocks including a plurality of macroblocks..." This is confusing for the reason the specification, at page 5, second para. Lines 5-6 the set of macroblocks that define a band is called herein a macroblock raster scan. There does not appear to be a teaching for what is claimed.

Claims 1-22 either refer to a band of lines followed by padding or macroblocks followed by padding, however, the specification seems to support that padding occurs after a coding result of the rasterized macroblock. It appears that the claim is reciting the limitation which is not in support for that provided in the specification.

A general search for art has been conducted however, the examiner is of the opinion that such an application against the claims, would be a premature judgment for or against patentability for the reason of a lack of a clear description of the invention and claims that have an interpretation in light of the specification to be extremely broad.
